

NASSAU COUNTY BAR ASSOCIATION - For Immediate Release
April 21, 2010

Nassau Bar Association Provides Free Guidance for Parents of Special Ed Kids May 17

Mineola, Long Island, NY - The world of Special Education can be confusing and frustrating for parents whose children may be eligible for services. Nassau County Bar Association education law attorneys and advocates will de-mystify the alphabet of designations and services to enable parents to seek the help they may need at a free seminar, "Special Education: The Early Years from Birth to School Age", to be presented Monday, May 17, 2010, 6:30 p.m. at the Bar's headquarters at 15th and West Streets, Mineola.

Discussing the newest developments and answering questions from the audience will be leading education attorneys Lynn Brown, Esq. of Meyer, Suozzi, English & Klein, Mineola and Randy Glasser, Esq. of Guercio & Guercio, LLP, Farmingdale. In addition, counselors from the Long Island Advocacy Center of New Hyde Park, a private not-for-profit agency dedicated to protecting the legal rights of students and individuals with disabilities, will provide additional information.

This free public education program is sponsored by the NCBA Community Relations & Public Education Committee. Reservations are required by calling NCBA at 516-747-4070 or emailing Caryle Katz at ckatz@nassaubar.org.

Founded in 1899, the Nassau County Bar Association, with a membership of nearly 6,000 private and public attorneys, judges, legal educators and law students, is the largest suburban bar association in the country. NCBA demonstrates its commitment to the community by offering a variety of services for the public, including lawyer referral services, senior citizen and mortgage foreclosure consultation clinics, judicial screening, public education programs and support for the Volunteer Lawyers Project, which provides much-needed free legal services for the indigent of Nassau County. For more information, call (516) 747-4070 or visit www.nassaubar.org.

Valerie Zurblis

Director of Marketing and Public Relations
Nassau County Bar Association
15th and West Streets
Mineola, NY 11501
516-747-4070 x204
vzurblis@nassaubar.org
www.nassaubar.org